

Video Apparatus And Method For Digital Video Enhancement

ABSTRACT

A method for encoding frames of input video, including the following steps: processing the input video to produce a compressed base layer bitstream; processing the input video to produce a compressed enhancement layer bitstream; identifying a region of interest in a video frame; and enhancing the quality of the region of interest by providing additional bits for coding said region.

09977081-101201
T02T0T T802660